A BITTER HATRED.

Carey's Death Due to Lord Caven-dish's Brother.

What an Irish Nationalist Says of the Recent South African Tragedy—Lord Hartington Accused of Holding a Malignant Spirit of Revenge—He Betrays Carey's Whereabouts to Those Seeking His Life.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Captain P. J. Coleman, of this city, who is one of the principals in the plot to blow up the Mansion House in London, and who escaped to this country while a heavy reward was pending for his capture, has received a letter from a member of the Executive Committee of the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood in England, which says that it was Lord Hartington, the brother of the murdered Lord Frederick Cavendish, who imparted to the Irish Nationalists the fact that Carey, the informer, would sail on the Kilfaun Castle. The following is an extract from the letter:

Lord Hartington has shown, and will continue to show himself the implacable hater of all who were concerned in his brother's death. His demeanor is in striking contrast to the sublime philosophy of the widow of Lord Cavendish. "If my husband's death will conduce to Ireland's good, I have nothing to regret," she has said. But Hartington is the very apothecary of revenge. He was determined on bringing his brother's alleged murderers to trial; and when Kelley, Brady and Curley satisfied British law by the exposition of their lives on the scaffold, Hartington, with fiendish delight, gloated over their portraits. He gnashed his teeth when some of the men escaped the disgrace of the hangman's rope, only to undergo the misery of penal servitude. But Hartington was not satisfied; his cup of revenge was not yet full, and he determined, that if possible, the informers, Carey, Smith, Hanlon and Kavanagh, whom he deemed equally guilty with the convicted men of his brother's death, should also die.

It was Hartington who gave us the information of Carey's release from Kilmainham, of his fugitive trip to England and the fact that he would sail on the Kilfaun Castle for Cape Town. What an anomaly and what a parody on justice was this—Lord Hartington asked us to kill the man whom the British Government had saved, to kill the man who above all others was primarily responsible for the tragic end of Lord Cavendish and Under Secretary Burke. It was Lord Hartington, too, who gave the information of the sailing of Hanlon, Kavanagh and Smith, and it was through his instrumentality that those informers were not allowed to land in Australia. In fact, the noble lord will carry his revenge to its legitimate ending, and do all in his power to save the life and the liberty of O'Donnell, who rid the earth of the infamous Carey.

GENUINE VOODOOISM.

What an Unlucky Pittsburg Woman Found in Her Pillow.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 21.—Hundreds of people within the past four days have visited the house of Mrs. John Smith, on McLane avenue, attracted by stories of witchcraft in connection with the death of a number of her children. Mrs. Smith, a woman of fair intelligence, was seen, and tells the following remarkable story, which is vouchered for by her neighbors:

"I have been married for nineteen years, and in that time have become the mother of twenty children. Of the twenty only three are now living, the births and deaths having averaged one a year. The last death occurred a few weeks ago, the child being an infant. A week or so ago a neighbor, Mr. Caffrey, who had been sick for some time, found a curious formation of flowers, roses and crosses in the pillow of his bed, made of feathers. After finding them he became better. I came home and looked through my pillows and feather beds. My husband had been ailing for some time, and in his pillow I found an alligator woven out of feathers. It was about fifteen inches long and two inches wide, and the feathers were so tightly woven that I could hardly pull them out. I did not know what to make of it, and asked some of the neighbors. They said it was the work of a witch. I kept the curious piece of feather work for a day or two, until I became annoyed by the hundreds of people who called to see it. Some wanted to buy it. I burned the alligator, with all my bedding. I don't know whether to account for the death of my seventeen children through this evil influence or not, but I think there is something in it."

The superstitions are all agog over this development. There are not less than three witch doctors in this city who practice strange mummeries, and they have a large practice. Strange to say half a dozen similar cases have occurred in the last six months, one case resulting in a suit in court. The story of the Smith woman regarding her numerous and fat progeny is as much a novelty as the witchcraft story she tells. Her husband is employed at Oliver's wire mill.

TWO BOY MURDERERS.

They Cut A Man's Throat and Steal His Money.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Aug. 21.—Last Friday morning a man named James Vandever, living in Kentucky, opposite Mt. Vernon, twenty miles from here, came across the river to spend the day. He exhibited considerable money. On Saturday his wife came over in search of him, and it was supposed he was drowned or home. The mystery has been solved by finding his body in the river, with his throat cut from ear to ear and one eye gouged out. Officers set to work, and were soon put on the track of the fiends who committed the deed, by a young woman, who was with the victim, in company with Seach Snider, John Anderson and Harry Campbell. All three of the men were arrested. Anderson and Snider, terror stricken, endeavored to fix the guilt upon one another. It is believed that the man Campbell had nothing to do with the crime, which was really committed by Anderson and Snider. They had seen Vandever with money, and resolved to get it, they followed him up the river a quarter of a mile above town, where they knocked him down with a club, then cut his throat, and threw the body in the river, after ridding his pockets. They got, however, but about $18, $9 apiece for a most dastardly murder. Both murderers are about eighteen years old, and natives of the village. Both are drunken worthless vagabonds, though of very worthy parentage. The excitement was very intense in that little town, and it is feared that the citizens will do something they have done three times within the past three years—string the wretches up at once.

A BAD BOHEMIAN.

What a Search For Stolen Goods Revealed.

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA, Aug. 21.—A Bohemian woman named Kotopys was arrested and her house searched for stolen property. Fully $2,000 worth was found, besides several hundred dollars in currency. She had many of the goods boxed ready for shipment. They consisted of everything in the line of ladies wearing apparel, among which were many handsome shawls, dolmans, silk dresses, etc., seven watches and a large amount of silverware. From the names on photographs in her trunk and other indications it appears that some of the property came from Chicago, Racine and Milwaukee. She is 40 years old and is now in jail. Some of the articles have been claimed by parties living there. The woman claimed to be a mid-wife, but has proved a blackmailer in several cases.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Ghastly Discovery on a Railroad Track.

CAIRO, ILL., Aug. 21.—At 6 a. m. the passenger train on the Memphis and Paducah Road, sixty miles north of Memphis, was making rapid headway. The engineer discovered a man lying across the track about a hundred feet ahead, and in a sharp turn in the road. He made every effort to check his train without avail, the train passing over the prostrate form. The train stopped, and the mutilated body of a negro was found. A surgeon on board at once declared foul play had taken place, and an examination showed the remains to be entirely cold. A bloody club and several ghastly pools of blood near by bore evidence that the man had been murdered several hours previous and the body placed across the track. Nothing was found about the remains to render identification possible.

POST OFFICE RECEIPTS.

Interesting Figures Showing the Business Done in the Large Cities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The gross receipts of the principal post offices of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1883, have just been recorded at the Post Office Department. They contain some interesting figures, tending to show the relative business standing of the various cities. New York heads the list with a grand total of $4,500,000, over twice greater than any of the others. Chicago comes second, with $1,950,000, followed closely by Philadelphia and Boston, of which took in $1,500,000, Philadelphia leading slightly.

Cincinnati's receipts were $640,000, and Cleveland's $316,000. San Francisco's total exceeds $300,000, being third on the list after St. Louis, which has the handsomest credit of $850,000. Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Detroit, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Louisville, Rochester, Toledo and Columbus follow in the order named.

SAD DROWNING CASE.

Terrible Grief of a Boy Who Sees His Brother Drown.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Richard and William Harris, sons of Robert Harris, a ship joiner, of No. 309 South Second street, Williamsburg, went to Canarsie, hired a boat and went out fishing. As they were returning, William, the younger son, fell overboard and being unable to swim was drowned. His brother Richard was so terrified at the loss of William that he made an attempt to strangle himself by winding the anchor-rope about his neck.

A fisherman named Bennett rowed over to the boat. Richard, who was nearly twenty years of age, was nearly dead, but Bennett restored him to consciousness. The boat had been partially capsized in the sea-grass and it was in the effort to pull it out of the sedges that William lost his balance and fell overboard. Mr. Harris and his wife were nearly overcome with grief when they heard of the drowning of their son.

Robbed by Road Agents.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Aug. 21.—The Red Rock Junction and Salmon City coach was stopped by two masked men, on the Montana side of the main range, and robbed. There were no passengers on board that day. The driver, Reedy Macdonald, was held up and robbed of $30, all the money he had with him. It is not known at this writing whether the highwaymen secured any additional money or valuables.

The Telegraph in the National Park.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A Western Union line has been completed to Cuinabar, Montana, fifty miles south of Livingston, Montana on the Northern Pacific Railway, from which point messages to the Hot Springs Hotel, in the Yellowstone Park, will be delivered by pony express. The President and party will be the first to use the lines.

A TELEGRAPH FIRE.

The Chicago Western Union Office Burned Down.

A Strange Disaster—The Flames Start From Crossed Wires—An Operator's Narrative of the Accident—Narrow Escape of the Inmates of the Office.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—The fifth floor of the Union Block building on Southwest La Salle and Washington streets, used as an operating department by the Western Union Telegraph Company, is a mass of ruins. A fire broke out there suddenly at 6:30 o'clock and every bit of property of every description was destroyed with frightful rapidity.

Mr. Charles F. Day, a chief operator, who was in the room when the fire started, described the scene as follows:

"There was ten of us on duty besides the night manager. I was seated at the switch board on the north side of the operating room, when a check boy rushed up to me and exclaimed: 'See that fire?' I looked behind the switch board, and at the lower end of a bunch of wires leading down from the tower on the roof to the top of the board, and saw flames about as large as my two hands. Almost instantly the flames had mounted half-way up the tower, and were also creeping down the wires to the bottom of the switch board and under the floor. Night manager Congdon turned in an alarm at once, but quicker than it takes to tell it everything was ablaze. I disconnected all the batteries, but nothing could stop the progress of the flames. Engines were on the scene when I got down stairs. There is no question at all as to how the fire originated. It was by the crossing of two duplex-battery wires at or near the switchboard. This made what is known as a grand connection, and threw all the force of these heavy batteries on a very short wire. The strength of such a battery would fuse anything, and the covering of the wires being kerite a highly inflammable substance, it was naturally first to catch fire. There were some 300 wires running into the office, making 600 loops between the tower and switchboard. I do not think anything was saved. I left the room five minutes after discovering the fire, and even then the skylights and transoms were breaking from the heat and dropping out. We had an experience with a fire at a switchboard four or five months ago, but the damage was entirely nominal. At that time the kerite covering was ignited by a lighted gas jet which was swung too near it."

The loss is estimated at $200,000. The company has taken possession of the Mutual office, and is getting in shape as rapidly as possible. The fire caused great excitement. Fully insured.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

A Pretty St. Louis Girl Strangely Disappears.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—Another one of those mysterious disappearances, for which St. Louis has become somewhat famous, occurred here Sunday evening, and has caused great grief in several well-known families.

On Sunday evening Colonel James Churchill, Vice President and Manager of the Western Anthracite Coal Company, and his wife went out for a short drive, leaving at home their daughter Mary, about seventeen years old.

On their return about 8 o'clock the daughter could not be found, and no clue to her whereabouts has yet been discovered. She was last seen standing alone about 7 o'clock at the front gate of the family residence, 2737 Morgan street, in home attire and presenting no unusual appearance.

Detectives have been working on the case, and every effort has been made by them and the girl's father and friends, but nothing yet has been heard of her. She was a quiet, grave girl, studious, devoted to music and cared little for gentlemen's society.

The only story so far advanced is abduction. The young lady is described as follows: About five feet three inches high, straight and well-developed, light brown hair and grayish blue eyes, oval face, regular features and sometimes wears her hair banded.

Is Typhoid Fever Contagious?

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—There were fifty-four cases of typhoid fever last week, despite the efforts of the health officers to prevent the prevalence of the disease by the enforced use of disinfectants. The health officers are convinced that the cases have either been imported from the country, or are due to cases which originated in the country. Reasons have also been found, the health officials say, for supposing the disease to be contagious in the true sense of the term. There have been several hundred cases in the city in the past three months, and the opportunity to study them has been availed of.

The Yellow Fever at Pensacola.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Aug. 21.—The total cases of yellow fever at the navy yard up to noon was eight, and the total deaths three. Surgeon Owen is better. Two attempts were made to pass the cordon, one by force and the other by offering a bribe of $200. The guards have been doubled.

No alarm at Pensacola.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 20.—The steamer Novarra Aldecocea, from Cienfuegos, has arrived at the Capes with one suspicious case on board.

Largest Balloon Ever in America.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 21.—Preparations are being made at Myrtle Avenue Park for the ascent of the largest balloon which has ever been exhibited in America. The balloon has just arrived from Europe, where it has been exhibited by Professor Daum in Denmark and Sweden.

A POWDER BLAST.

Full Details of the Halifax Powder Mill Blown Up.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 21.—A terrific explosion, heard within a radius of seven miles, took place at the Acadia Powder Company's works, at Waverly, fourteen miles from this city, whereby three of the company's mills were blown to atoms, one man killed, two seriously injured and many others hurt. Just after the mills had stopped for the day and the workmen had gone home, Henry McEwan, an assistant foreman, returned to one of the mills, which were all adjoining, alone, for what purpose is not known.

He was heard to hammer something one or two blows, and then the explosion took place. McEwan was thrown through the side of the building, and his body was picked up fifteen rods away, entirely nude and shorn of hair, blackened, bones broken and unrecognizable. The three mills went off almost simultaneously, and were strewn in match wood over fifty acres of country. No other persons being in the premises none were killed outright, but two named Smith and Miller, at a distance of several yards, were knocked down unconscious, shorn of clothing and hair, and terribly mutilated. They are still alive, although in terrible agony. Another man, at a distance of thirty yards, heard the first fizz of the powder, and instinctively guessing the matter, saved his life by jumping into the flume which supplied the works with water.

Strange to say two of the mills, which were as completely destroyed as the other, contained not the slightest package of explosives, having been just thoroughly cleaned, but went off from the powder impregnated in cracks of the floors and through the buildings catching with the first. As the works were situated by themselves in the woods, away from other buildings, the loss is not so extensive as might have been, being under $6,000. As it was, the amount of powder lost was only about 3,000 pounds, but had the next mills caught, also, over fifty tons would have exploded.

The company still have eight mills uninjured, they being built in detached locations for safety on similar occasions.

THE THREATENED STRIKE.

Glass Manufacturers Uneasy of the Attitude of Employees.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—The window glass manufacturers of the Eastern district met in the St. Cloud Hotel, and behind closed doors, discussed their relations with their employees. Mr. Warrick, of Glassboro, N. J., said that the object of the meeting was to appoint a committee to confer with their workmen concerning wages. The manufacturers, he said, desire to reduce all grades of glass 10 percent, and that trouble with the workmen was apprehended, and unless some arrangement was made a prolonged struggle would be probable. William Baker, Jr., of the Baltimore firm, Baker Brothers, said that his concern employ no union men, but import their workmen from abroad. They, however, pay as high wages as any in the business. He regarded the importation of glass-blowers as generally beneficial to the manufacturers. The conference lasted nearly three hours, and it was evident that much uneasiness at the prospect of a strike was felt. The meeting was adjourned, and definite action will be taken.

TREASURY CARELESSNESS.

More Cases of Stray Packages of Greenbacks.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Treasurer Wyman chooses to be mysterious about that package of ten $1,000 notes found under an old trunk in the cancellation room the other day by the machinist George Langley. There is reason to believe that they were cancelled before they were dropped, but Treasurer Wyman will not say positively that this was the case.

Another instance of the carelessness of Treasury officials came to light recently. One of the young women employed to sort the contents of the waste baskets of the department, with view to the classification of the waste paper found therein for the convenience of the paper mills, found $400 in greenbacks in one of the waste baskets. Another of the young women found $25 worth of internal revenue stamps in another waste basket recently. Yet the Treasury system of checks is perfect.

OIL PRODUCTION.

A Heavy Decline Showed By the Stock Reports.

BRADFORD, Aug. 21.—The stock report, just published, shows a decline of stocks at the wells in the entire region of 2,230 barrels daily during the month of July. In the Bradford field the decline averaged five and three tenths barrels per well. The total decrease of stocks in the entire region was 70,697 barrels. The average daily receipts were 65,628. Deducting the daily average decline of stocks at the wells of 2,230 barrels, it shows the daily production of petroleum of the entire region to be 63,348 barrels. This is a decline as compared with the June estimate of about 2,000 barrels per day. The average daily decline in the production is about three barrels per day.

RUMORED REGICIDE.

A Report That the Queen of Spain Has Been Assassinated.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—It is reported that an attempt was made to take the life of the Queen of Spain at Madrid by shooting her with a revolver. The King and Queen were riding in an open carriage, when the would-be assassin rushed from the crowded sidewalk and fired two shots from a revolver in rapid succession. He was at once seized, disarmed, and hurried to prison. The royal equipage drove hurriedly away, with the Queen in a fainting condition. Great excitement exists, and it is impossible to get full particulars. The street rumor is to the effect that the King was unhurt and that the Queen was slightly wounded.

Johnson, the Delinquent Operator, Arrested.

TROY, Aug. 21.—Johnson, the Troy and Boston telegraph operator, whose negligence resulted in the late disaster on that road, by which six persons were killed, has been arrested and lodged in jail in this city. He will, it is expected, be tried on an indictment for manslaughter. Bail in the sum of $5,000 is demanded.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says: The increasing number of failures and the lack of uniformity in the insolvent laws of the several States, have again directed attention to the importance of enacting a general bankrupt law by the next Congress. A strong delegation of business men from Philadelphia, New York and Boston, it is said, will be present when Congress assembles, and urge the adoption of a just system of bankruptcy early in the session. The belief in business circles in these cities is general that prompt action in this direction will relieve the country from the uncertainty and apprehension now so wide-spread. A prominent Democratic Congressman now in the city has announced his intention of introducing a bankrupt bill that has been carefully prepared and revised by a number of business men and attorneys, the very first Monday after the organization of the house, and he thinks it will pass in some form. There is no doubt that a good measure will pass the Senate, as that body has always been inclined to favor bankrupt legislation.

SAM. PATCH'S LAST LEAP.

Fatal Ending of His Showing That Some Things Can be Done as Well as Others.

Rochester Union.

The fate of Captain Webb at the rapids of Niagara having awakened a melancholy interest in similar occurrences, a correspondent of the Union has been at the pains to furnish the following in relation to Sam. Patch's exploits in this place, clipped from a city paper of an early date:

SAM. PATCH'S LAST LEAP.

We have often been requested by travelers and others to republish the particulars of Sam. Patch's last leap from the falls, but not having in our possession any newspaper files of that year, we are unable to do so. In answer to an inquiry in our daily yesterday, Mr. Henry Scran ton, of this city, has furnished us from his private journal the following: The first leap took place on Friday, the 6th of November, 1829; distance 100 feet. He went down in fine style, and rose to the surface amid the huzzas of the multitude. The number of persons present was estimated at 7,000 to 8,000. The last and fatal leap, which took place one week after, was advertised in the Anti-Masonic Inquirer, as follows:

HIGHER YET: SAM'S LAST JUMP!

"Some things can be done as well as others."

THERE'S NO MISTAKE IN SAM. PATCH.—Of the truth of this he will endeavor to convince the good people of Rochester and vicinity next Friday, November 13, at 2 o'clock p.m. Being determined to "astonish the natives" of the West before he returns to the Jerseys, he will have a scaffold twenty-five feet in height erected on the brink of Genesee falls, in this village, from which he will fearlessly leap into the abyss below, a distance of 125 feet. Sam's bear at 3 o'clock precisely, will make the same jump and follow his master, thus showing conclusively that "some things can be done as well as others." Moreover, Sam. hopes that all the good people who attend this astonishing exhibition will contribute something toward remunerating him for the seemingly hazardous experiment.

The following is the Anti-Masonic Inquirer's notice of the exploit:

"The ominous expression contained in the reckless Patch's advertisement has been fearfully vindicated. It was indeed his 'last jump.' He jumped from a staggering twenty-five feet above the brink of the falls into the abyss below, from whence his body has not yet been recovered. A variety of reasons are given for the fatal termination of the presumptuous feat. All, however, concur in saying that Patch, from some cause or other, did not retain the position while descending or strike the water as he did on the former occasion. It was a daring and useless exposure of human life, which, resulted disastrously, creates a train of painful reflections. We would not dwell upon this distressing scene, and yet we cannot banish it from our thoughts. We still see the frail, mortal standing, as it proved, upon the brink of eternity! The terrified imagination follows him from his giddy height, through the deep dark chasm below! It lingers but a few moments of breathless and agonized suspense! The waters troubled a moment in swallowing their victim, are at rest! The expiring bubbles announce that the spirit has departed, leaving the body in the 'dark bosom of the ocean buried!' The multitude shrink away abashed and rebuked!"

Excursions are all the style, but the style will be short-lived as the river is receding so rapidly we will have to go in skiffs and perhaps sail on the water.

Wednesday night, or rather morning, at one o'clock a.m. the "squire" was aroused from his slumbers by a jolly wedding party. We couldn't see if she had any white ribbons waving from her shoulder.

We heard Miss Maud Wilson got tired of waiting on the formation of an excursion party, so packed her trunk and has gone on a summer jaunt. Wherever she goes the masculine hearts will have to suffer.

Thursday night Mrs. H. R. Metford gave a party in honor of Miss Lizzie Johnson, of Defiance, Ohio. A large number of young people attended. Music and dancing were indulged in until a late hour, when the guests were ushered to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was served, comprising all the delicacies of the menu. The occasion was a most enjoyable affair.

How long did you like the preaching Sunday in the camp ground?" enquired Harry's sister. "Ah, very well." She then enquired the subject. "Oh, it was something about women and their curiosity." "Harry, do tell me all about it." "Why, Fan, I couldn't be there to appreciate it as I did. I saw plenty of pretty girls. You know I am not particularly fond of sermons, Fan."

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Lost—Necklace, and locket.
J. J. McCarthy—Domestic sewing machine for sale.
Mrs. M. J. Morford—Millinery goods and notions.

We hope our duty will not be
To have to tell you twice,
To lay aside your nickel coins
To get a stock of ice;
Nor yet to take a little switch,
And with that stinger make
You walk right up to Leach's cart
And get your little cake.

Two men, while asleep on the wharf-boat Tuesday night, had their coats stolen.

The black-bearded wheat recently imported into this county from Virginia by Prof. C. J. Hall, will be ready to be delivered to those who have bought it, at the Kentucky Central depot next Monday. Prof. Hall will be present in person on that day.

MR. WILLIAM GRANT died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Len. Purnell, on Tuesday night. He had been sick for several months with consumption, and came from Cincinnati to this city with the hope of benefitting his health.

MR. SALOMON is still at work securing stock in the electric light enterprise and continues to meet with success. He is very confident that the full amount needed will be secured and the company organized at an early day. Some of the leading business men in the city are interested in this important enterprise.

JOHN WILSON, the lad who was cut and wounded at Marshall Station a few days ago, by young Farrow, died of his injuries on Monday night. Farrow had his examination on Tuesday morning before Magistrates J. M. Alexander and Isaac L. McIlvane, and was acquitted on the ground that the deed was done in self defense.

THE BULLETIN is indebted to Mr. J. F. Lee, of Chester, for some very fine peaches and grapes of his own growing. They are as fine as any we have seen this season. We are pretty certain that no gardener in his neighborhood has raised better fruit. Chester's craw-fish land seems to be keeping up with the march of improvement.

Sales of Land.

The following changes in the ownership of land have been recorded at the office of the Clerk of the County Court, since our last report:

W. H. Hull and wife to Elizabeth Sims, two acres of land on Phillips creek; consideration $125.

Thomas Coburn to Andrew J. Coburn, 40 acres of land on Bull Creek; consideration $800.

H. J. Powell and wife to E. Martin, lot of ground on East side of Limestone street between Third and Fourth streets; consideration $250.

Rachel Ball and others to Augustus Sullivan, 17 acres of land on the Ohio river below Maysville; consideration $626.

John Gregson and wife to John E. French, one acre and seven poles of land near Maysville; consideration $58.

Wm. Holiday and wife to Thomas S. McDonald, lot No. 5 in Chester; consideration $100.

Asa R. Burgess and wife to A. J. Anderson, lots Nos. 20, 21, 22 in Chester; consideration $360.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Chas. Watson, of Cincinnati, is in the city.

Mr. George Landgraff is visiting friends at Wheeling.

Miss Kate Daly, of this city, is visiting friends at Lexington, Ky.

Capt. Thomas J. Henry, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, is in the city to-day.

Miss Annie Bell Hall, of Charlottesville, Va., is the guest of the family of Prof. C. J. Hall, of this city.

Misses Hannah Kane and Maggie Fitzgerald, of this city, leaves to-day on a visit to friends at Flemingsburg.

Mr. John B. Dickey and his daughter, Miss Marcie, of Flemingsburg, are visiting the family of Mr. John Walsh.

Mr. W. W. Baldwin, jr., has been appointed aid-de-camp with the rank of Colonel, on the staff of Governor Blackburn.

Mr. Ed. W. Dillon, of the boot and shoe house of J. M. Poter, Cincinnati, O., is spending a few days with friends in Maysville.

Mr. Thomas J. Nolin will have charge of the dining hall, and booth privileges at the Germantown fair grounds during the coming meeting.

Rev. Father Ablen, of Covington, Ky., who has been spending a few days in this city, the guest of Rev. Father Glorieaux, will return home to-day.

Miss Mollie Donovan has accepted a position in Mr. A. R. Burgess' dry goods store. She is one of the most experienced and popular sales-ladies in the city.

Camp Meeting.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., August 21. Yesterday was moving day at the Ruggles Camp Ground. After summing results we have a great cause for gratitude. Quite a number professed conversion, many others professed to obtain the blessing of a clean heart. The congregations were large, orderly and attentive. We never knew as many people to listen so seriously, attentively and for so many services as they did at this camp meeting. God favored us with three bountiful rains, which put the roads into fine condition and all the farmers into a pleasant humor. The financial condition of the Association was improved and the Directors are going forward to purchase and get title to the twenty acres of land in which our camp is located. The cottages, hotel and tabernacle are kept insured in the Anna Insurance Company. Notwithstanding the heat and the twelve days continuance of the meeting and the great crowds there was a plentiful supply of water to the close. We hope by next year to have quite a number of new cottages and also a children's chapel to cost several hundred dollars. This will be a great help to the meeting.

We owe to the Messrs. Dawson much credit for their gentlemanly bearing, and their close attention to their business as police, resulting in the almost unexampled good order all the time. Though very quiet and unostentatious, their influence was felt and seen in all the services, and in all parts of the ground.

We have no doubt but that the good influence growing out of this meeting, not now seen on the surface, will be greater in the out-come than what was seen. One of those converted this year was brought under serious conviction last year, and remained so until this meeting. We have good reason to hope that many carried serious impressions home with them, which will ripen into salvation. So may it be.

COUNTY POINTS.

TWO LICK. Still dry weather and crops look badly. Mrs. Letha Case is sick again. Mrs. Belle Woodward, of Robertson county, is visiting relatives here. The moonlight fete in Germantown last Saturday night was largely attended. There were services at the school house last Sunday afternoon.

The farmers are done threshing wheat. The yield was not large but the quality good. HOMO.

MARYSLICK. Mrs. Patsey Hart, of Cincinnati, is visiting the family of Thomas Hopper, in this place. Miss Mary H. Myall, of Maysville, is visiting her relatives in this place.

W. W. Ball, of Maysville, was seen on our streets last week. He was on business.

We took in Sardis last Sunday and attended the protracted meeting at the Southern E. Church. The house was crowded at first. One thing we noticed that there were more pretty little short girls about Sardis than we ever saw in one place.

Mrs. William Wheatley and her youngest daughter and Miss Mary J. Wheatley, of Sardis, and Mrs. Thomas F. Wilson, of Vancleave, were visiting the Stonewall House, this place, last Monday.

Porter & Co.'s saw mill caught fire Saturday night and burned about five hundred feet of lumber.

Mrs. Sam. Riley, of Maysville, is visiting her father's family, Mr. Enos Myall.

This time it is wife of Mr. C. S. Fowler, a daughter, on the 19th inst.

W. J. Loos will preach for us again on next Sunday at 11 o'clock a.m.

We had a light rain on Monday afternoon, which barely laid the dust, the first we have for five weeks.

SARDIS.

W. T. Chanslor and Tom Browning have returned from their western jaunt, and report an excess of rain out west, while we are parched and burnt with drought.

The dining at Mr. Wm. Forman's on Thursday was a pleasant one. Mr. Loudon Grover, wife and daughter, Miss Lizzie Payton, Mr. and Mrs. Dye and niece, Miss Jefferson, were among the guests.

The boys are working up the moonlight fete at a lively rate. If it is fair and bright Friday night we will witness an array of gallant men and some of Eve's fair daughters "Come where the moon lies beaming."

Dr. Thompson, of New Orleans, and J. Frank Dye, of Campbell county, were in our midst cattle hunting last week. They wanted a few Jersey heifers as a nucleus of a future herd. They made their headquarters at "Forest Home," and were royally entertained by the hospitable "Squire."

Bro. Spates' nightly meetings have been pleasant and profitable. By the way he has a helping indeed, as his hundred Plymouth Rock and Brahmin chickens, and ready for market, have put thrifty pigs, fine cow, etc., astir. How happy such a pastor is and ought to be—how disposed to enjoy the sunshine of this world, and all there is of good in it.

Those gay and dashing widowers from Marysick and the country round about, who were cavorting up and down the quiet valley of the Shannon on Saturday and Sunday last, had better look out. They are trespassing on "holy" ground, at least on ground that is "posted." These claims are pre-empted, christian friends, and you must govern yourselves accordingly.

Spent hearing for Rev. Mr. Newton Sunday night at the Southern Methodist Church. He made his sermon very attractive to the young people. The pointer was, "Religion Never was Designed to make our Pleasures Less."

DIED.
Sunday morning, August 4th, CHARLES BENJAMIN McDANIEL, aged 26 years, 2 months and 27 days, after an illness of six months.

His sufferings were very intense, but he bore them with the greatest patience, and never complained that they were too great. From the first to the last hour he was reconciled to die, and died with a hope beyond the grave. He seemed to see his way clear. Everything was well with him. The only thing he dreaded was to leave his kind friends and young associates. He left his best wishes, and hoped to meet them in a better world. He was devoted to his family and associates, and hated to leave his old man, a friend and affectionate sister behind him, who had devoted their whole attention to him. He had every comfort that could be bestowed during his sickness. The funeral was preached at the house Monday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. S. B. Alderson. The sermon was a very touching one, and seemed to make a deep impression upon those present. After service the remains were interred at the family burying ground at Pleasant Hill, this county. He leaves behind him a kind and loving mother, who is in this city, one brother, in Dayton, Ohio, who is an invalid from paralysis and rheumatism and blindness. He could not be present, but it is to be hoped they will meet in a better world and know each other. The evening before he died he sat up and sang the first verse of—

"I will sing you a song of that beautiful land,
The far away home of the soul;
Where no storms ever burst on the glittering strand,
And the years of eternity roll."

He leaves a host of good warm friends behind him. Ben was a social, jovial good boy, and died without an enemy. He was noted for his generosity and good manners. Never was a better hearted man ever lived or died than he was, and we sincerely hope and pray that he is now receiving his reward in heaven.

A FRIEND,

I miss thee, oh, I miss thee,
Thou dear departed one;
I miss thee in the morning,
And when the day is done.

I miss thy welcome footsteps,
As they fall upon the floor;
And I know thy loving presence
Will come to me no more.

I miss thee from the fireside,
And from thy vacant chair,
And from thy empty chamber—
O, I miss thee everywhere.

O, she'd clasp her arms around you
In one long, long embrace,
Imprint a thousand kisses
On thy bright smiling face.

O, yes, I know I'll know thee
In that changeless summer land,
And amidst its sadness beatitudes,
And on its golden strand.

We will love and live forever,
Our Father, God, above;
And oh! I'll never miss thee—
Never miss thee from that shore.

We are apart, but not forever,
I hope we'll meet in a world above,
Where we cannot have the pleasure,
But we have a different love.

HATTIE DUGLASS.

The Scottish Religious Riots—More About the Carey Murder.

SCOTLAND.

SCOTLAND, Aug. 21.—The quiet restored at Coatesbridge by the reinforced police was of short duration. At an early hour the riotous demonstration was again renewed with vigor and determination.

The narrow, crooked streets were densely crowded, and for a time for the police to stem the tide of battle seemed futile.

Clubs were used on every hand and the air was filled with missiles. The crowd was moving toward the Monkland Canal when the mounted police made a terrific charge upon the belligerents, many of whom were trampled under the feet of the horses, while others were driven into the canal. Several badly wounded persons were taken to the hospital, and many arrests were made. Although the police was augmented it is still too small to check the riot.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Advices just received from South Africa state that O'Donnell became aware of Carey's presence through a paragraph which was published in the Capetown papers. He immediately commenced drinking, and, while in a saloon in that city, was heard to denounce Carey and declare that he would swing for him if he got a chance.

Having made this threat and intent on killing Carey, he took passage by the steamer Melrose Castle for Port Elizabeth. The shooting was done in the fore cabin, O'Donnell waiting for such an opportunity as would present no possibility of interference or failure. The first two shots were fired in quick succession, both penetrating Carey's back. He staggered and partly turned, and the third and last shot struck him in the throat, when he fell.

The blood from the wound in the throat spurted in a powerful but jerky stream, and covered the wall and furniture in a most horrible manner. Mrs. Carey, with a scream, jumped at O'Donnell and clasped his arms in an attempt to prevent him from firing again. O'Donnell pushed her gently aside and said:

"Shake hands, Mrs. Carey, I didn't do it."

He then quietly sat down and remained perfectly still until the officers of the vessel placed him in irons, and Carey was quickly lifted from the floor and placed on the cabin table, where in a few minutes he died without uttering a word.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Times' Alexandria correspondent says: "If the British troops should be withdrawn from Egypt no European family would remain in the country a week after their departure."

Egypt, he says, is incapable of self-government.

MEDICATED WELL-WATER.

A Specific for Dyspepsia and Diseases of the Kidneys.

Has been used with most gratifying success in many obstinate cases. Prof. F. W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "belongs to the same class with that of the Alleghany Springs of Virginia, the medicinal virtues of which are well known to be stated here."
